Junior Class Selects "Miss Adventure" for Presentation Nov. 13

Annabelle Barthel and Bob Simon Have Leads In Comedy

"Miss Adventure," a farce comedy written by Charles George, has been chosen by the Junior class of the Antioch Township High school for presentation on the evenings of Nov. 13 and 14.

The cast already has been selected and is already rehearsing the second act under the direction of Miss Jeanette Darrough.

Annabelle Barthel has the feminine lead and Robert Simon the male lead. Miss Barthel plays the part of a tomboyish girl in a girl's school who runs away, passes herself off as a male farm hand.

Complications arise when the farmer's daughter falls in love with her and arouses the jealousy of another farm hand. The farmer himself is often in the picture.

Miss Darrough says the play supplied by the Baker Plays agency at a royalty is especially suited to high school age and the 15 persons taking part fall into their parts naturally.

Village Issues Permit for New Launderette

Through a permit issued Tuesday evening by the village board an out of town firm known as the Randall Co., will erect a building and open a Launderette at the Jensen subdivision east of Rte. 21 on Rte. 173.

The building comparable in size to the one now being erected by Robert Mann on the lot adjacent to the east will be made of cement blocks.

The firm will have washers and dryers through which the public for a small rental fee may do washings. It is a popular method that has been started in many cities and villages over the Middle West.

Just when the Launderette will be ready for operation was not stated.

Permits also were issued for improvements at the Antioch theatre and for a water connection at the Dr. Bratrude place at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 59.

Closing of Bookies in County Eliminates One In Antioch This Week

The lid on gambling in Lake county was made tighter this week by the closing of "bookies" and the betplacing office in Antioch was closed along with those in other cities and villages.

After slot machines were eliminated in the rural areas, threats of grand jury investigation into gambling at Waukegan were made and city officials fearing they themselves would be indicted for not carrying out the oath of office, ordered slot machines out of club rooms and bookie joints closed. Bingo also has been forbidden.

The Antioch betting place was then closed in co-operation with those in Waukegan.

Slot machines were removed from Antioch places of business at the first order from Sheriff Walter Atkinson.

The play "Lena Rivers" which will be given Thanksgiving week is well underway and practice will continue each week until further notice.

CORRECTION

In our story concerning building permits issued by the village board last week, we reported that a permit had been issued to S. Boyer Nelson for construction of a home to cost $2,000. This figure should have been $2,500.

Colorful Character

Round Lake Park Now An Incorporated Village

Round Lake park, a subdivision on the south beach of Round lake, voted 462 to 124 to become an incorporated village and County Judge Minard E. Hulise has set Dec. 16 as the date on which village officials will be elected.

Incorporation of the village calls for a president, six trustees, a clerk, and a police magistrate.

The voting brought out 608 of the 700 registered voters and the voting was so exciting that 22 persons spoiled their ballots by marking in the word yes instead of the cross mark.

A Chicago man and wife thought they should have the privilege of voting because they owned property in the subdivision and when denied the franchise because they were not local registrants became belligerent and had to be removed by a deputy sheriff at the order of the officials.

Club Leaders Score Antioch 4-H Poultry Project Contestants

Antioch 4-H club members ranked high in the poultry project recently completed.

Owing to the presence of Newcastle disease in the state which prevented poultry exhibits, a new method of rating projects was initiated this fall. All 4-H club poultry projects were awarded according to a score card prepared by Prof. L. E. Card of the College of Agriculture poultry department.

The score card provided for rating the flock on the following factors: Sanitation program 20 points, feeding 15, housing and equipment 15, flock condition 30, and trueness to variety 20.

Each club member received an A, B, or C according to his score. In chick brooding, Noel Elfering, Donald and Glenn Irving, Robert January, Joe Kirby, George Miller and Joe Rush of No. 2, Ken Heuer of No. 3, and Logan Lundgren and John Wells of No. 4, got A's.

Local Phone Exchange Enlarged to Take Care of 130 New Customers

Two new manuals have been installed at the Antioch telephone exchange to take care of 130 new subscribers that are being added.

The new service is being extended to patrons along highway No. 173 from Skokie west to the northern end of Fox Lake. Their addition was made possible by new central equipment sufficient to take care of 410 subscribers, and about nine miles of cable.

The applications for telephone service now supplied were made as far back as pre-war days. More service will be possible through the 410-unit manuals when more cable is received, J. M. Littler, manager, said.

The Antioch exchange with its handling of long distance calls going through to Fox Lake and Lake Villa is one of the busiest boards in Lake county outside of Waukegan.

Homecoming Game Lost, Sequoits Ready to Meet Grant Township There

A 31 to 0 loss to Northbrook in football was the only incident that marred the annual Homecoming of Antioch Township last Friday but it was of the knock-out variety.

The "huse" on Thursday and the dance on Friday night lived up to their forecasts and the queen and her attendants have set the pace for beauty in this year's display of high school fairness.

The defeat of the Sequoits was the first in several years of homecoming games and threatens to become the most disastrous season in recent football history.

The team came out of the game without serious injury and should be in trim for the game Saturday night at Ingleside when it takes on the bitter rivals, Grant Township. The Grant boys have had a better season but just what they will be able to display before Antioch remains to be seen.

Board Canvasses Vote and Approves Fire Truck Award

Fire House Bond Ordinance Passed—Truck Bid $5,194 Low

The village board met in special session Tuesday evening and canvassed the vote of the recent special election on the $20,000 fire house bond issue and finding the decision favorable, passed an ordinance calling for issuance of the bonds by a Chicago firm.

During the same meeting the board approved issuance of a contract by the fire department to the U. S. Fire Equipment Co., of Chicago, for outfitting of a fire truck on a chassis already purchased. The truck will be equipped by the F. B. Howe Co., of Anderson, Ind., and the promise that company is to have the truck ready for use in 90 working days.

The Chicago representatives of the Howe company were lowest of three bidders and are ready to sign a contract calling for payment to them of $5,194. The contract probably will be signed yet this week when a company representative will come to Antioch.

The village board planned to have revised drawings of the fire department section of the new village hall on display soon and will call for bids within a short time afterward.

Village Board Issues Warning To Pranksters

In an effort to put a stop to the widespread acts of vandalism which were a part of Antioch's Halloween celebration last year, the Antioch village board is issuing a warning this year that any repetition of these acts will be met with "prosecution to the fullest extent of the law."

Village President George B. Bartlett said today that special policemen would be detailed to be on the lookout for youngsters with destruction on their minds and that the older ones would be under surveillance also. He expressed the opinion that some of the citizens who are behind the move to put an end to pranks are the very ones who were responsible for them "not too many years ago."

The fire department will be called upon to help police the village on Halloween night, and one member of the board suggested that other organizations be called on for help also.

Legion Issues First Call for Basketball

Basketball edged into the sport scene in Antioch this week with a call by D. N. Rockow of the American Legion for candidates for the Legion team.

First practice will be on Monday evening at the Antioch Township High school gymnasium.

The Legion again will put a team in the Chain O' Lakes league and is seeking the best material possible. It is expected that most of last year's squad will be back.

Local Scouts to Study Aeronautics Through Miniature Airplanes

Boy Scout troop No. 91 of Antioch meeting last evening decided to take up a major course in aeronautics.

Twenty-two members, accompanied by their leader H. E. Cardiff, went by bus to Deerfield last Sunday afternoon and witnessed an exhibition of model airplanes.

The Deerfield troop put 20 self propelled planes through their capers and the local scouts returned quite enthusiastic over the subject. There are 36 members in the local troop and most of the older boys plan to pursue aeronautics as their major interest this year.

Winter Increases Fire Hazards

The approach of winter brings an increase in many fire hazards, particularly in homes where heating and electrical equipment will soon be working at capacity. And this winter we will learn whether the American people are capable of meeting the challenge of a destroyer that has been setting ruinous record after ruinous record.

That challenge has been clearly presented to every individual—and to every community, no matter how small. The President's conference on fire safety, which was held last May, developed a splendid, all-inclusive program for combatting fire. But that program will be worthless without aggressive public support.

One of the principal community duties is to enact fire prevention ordinances that are up to date—and then to enforce them. Thousands of our towns have no ordinances at all. Many others have laws which are completely obsolete. And in others still little or no effort is made at enforcement. The certain result is ever-increasing fire loss.

An efficient fire department is equally important. Firemen must be trained, and equipment must be kept in proper repair. Adequate water facilities must be provided. A small town cannot have the kind of fire department that protects a metropolis—but it can have one adequate to meet its need at moderate cost.

Every expert knows that fire can be controlled—and that losses can be reduced to a fraction of their present volume. Positive action will accomplish that.

Socialism Saps a Nation

For more than 50 years, the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor carried a plank in its platform advocating public ownership of utilities. Now that plank has been dropped. The reason, according to the Duluth Herald, is that "actual bargaining experience has led the chiefs of some of the larger unions to the conclusion that labor can get more generous contracts from private employers and corporations than from government agencies."

These labor leaders should also have learned, from simple observation of affairs abroad, that government ownership of industry means the death of the free labor movement and of strong unions. No one can strike against the government. No one can challenge the decisions of the government. There can be no redress from injustice when all-powerful officials dominate labor's source of livelihood.

Worst of all, when government takes over business, it is almost impossible to get government out of business. A revolution or a complete collapse of the government in power is necessary. Even then, the transition back to a free enterprise system is difficult and costly. Socialism exhausts the energies of a country and dissipates its capital. It places a premium on mediocrity and discourages initiative. It makes for a sheep-like people, conditioned to blindly following leaders. After a period of years of that, the people lose the ability to manage their own affairs.

The Wisconsin State Federation of Labor has learned that free labor and free enterprise are one. It is to be congratulated for admitting it.

Government and Bread and Butter

It is probable that a very small minority of the people realize to what extent the cost of government enters into present day living costs.

The Tax Foundation recently published a remarkable comparison of the cost of food and the cost of the Federal government, which was prepared by the Chief of the St. Louis Star-Times Washington bureau. The comparison shows that government costs—exclusive of war activities—increased from $4,000,000,000 in 1929 to $21,000,000,000 in 1946. In the same period, food costs increased from $20,000,000,000 to $43,000,000,000. And, in 1946, retail food stores sales came to $24,000,000,000—which was only $3,000,000,000 more than the cost of the Federal government, not counting war expenditures. These figures, it should be emphasized, do not include the cost of state and local governments.

It's a sure bet that if the government had done as much to hold down costs as has American business, we'd be far better off now. The cost of commodities has gone up in spite of, no because of, the efforts of industry to keep prices from getting out of line. No manufacturer wants to see his customers priced out of the market. No storekeeper, whether he sells food or clothing or anything else, wants to see consumers forced into buying less. That feeling is shared by great manufacturers and small producers—and, on the distribution end, by the big chain systems and the little stores alike. But the tide of inflation has been running strongly, and business cannot check it with the cost of government entirely beyond its control.

Excessively costly and wasteful government is one of the most dangerous and powerful inflationary forces. So, when we revile high prices, we should remember that government has been a major factor in causing them—and that the policies of government will largely determine what prices do in the future.

*Increases since 1939, from Department of Labor Index for moderate income families in large cities, and from National Housing Agency.

...our costs have gone up, too!

SOME PEOPLE get along under higher prices by using less or doing without. Some have more income to help meet higher costs. All can adjust outgo to income, to a large extent.

But a railroad cannot skimp or do without and still provide good, efficient and safe service—adequate to the needs and desires of the public.

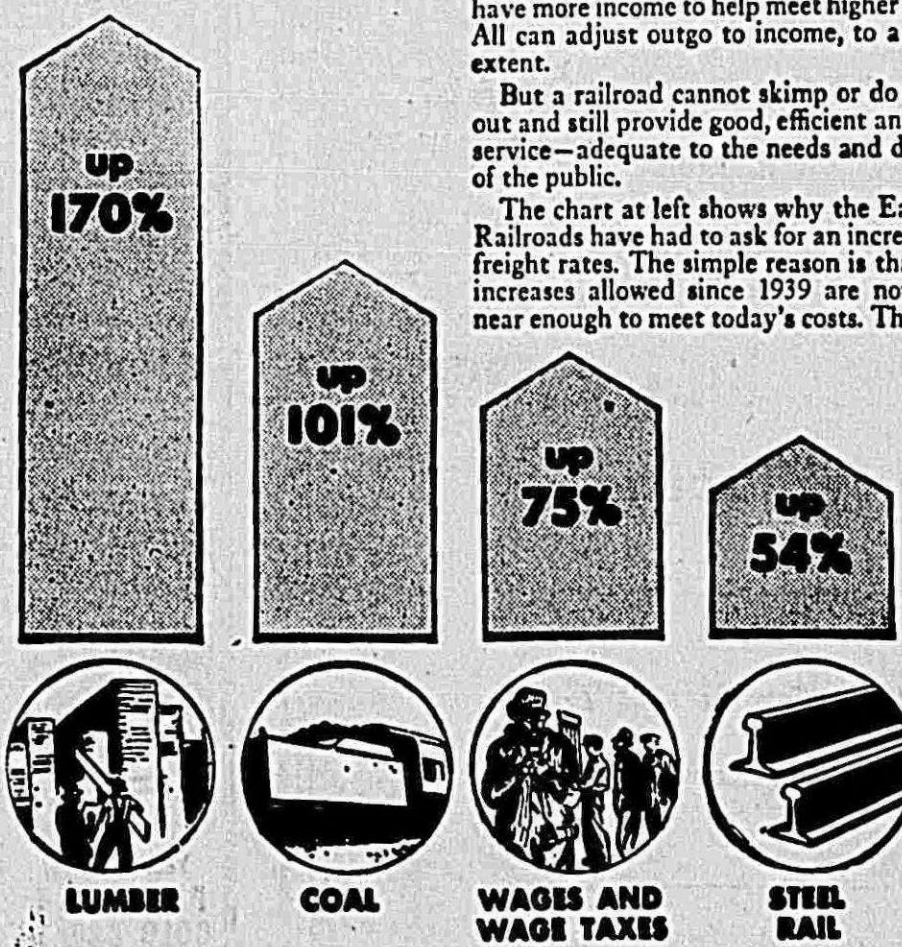

The chart at left shows why the Eastern Railroads have had to ask for an increase in freight rates. The simple reason is that the increases allowed since 1939 are nowhere near enough to meet today's costs. The revenue the railroads get for hauling the average ton of freight is only 15% more, whereas the cost of operating the railroads has increased more than 63% in that period.

Only recently, for instance, an arbitration board added another $468,000,000 to our annual bill for wages and wage taxes, of which $187,000,000 is borne by the Eastern Railroads. This brings the increase in these items alone to more than 75% since 1939.

All the railroads ask is what the law says they should be allowed to have. That means just and reasonable rates. The law says there is need in the public interest for adequate and efficient railway transportation service at the lowest cost consistent with furnishing such service.

In other words, all the railroads ask is sufficient revenue to enable them, under honest, economical and efficient management, to provide the kind of service people want.

Some examples of increased costs since 1939, affecting railroad operation

Increased freight rates since 1939 have increased the revenue from hauling the average ton of freight one mile only 15%

Keep Tools In Shape

Tools should be kept in good condition. An old ax or hammer may have a loose head that will fly off and strike a bystander. Sharp tools properly used and stored will do more work with less effort than tools in poor condition.

Substitute for Bone Meal

Defluorinated rock phosphate has proved a satisfactory substitute for steamed bone meal as a supplement to phosphorus-deficient rations for dairy cattle, according to Minnesota station experiments. This permits effective supplementation of rations otherwise deficient in phosphorus because of the acute shortage of feeding-grade bone meal.

Non-Slip Horseshoes

By combining a piece of heavy-duty tire and an ordinary horseshoe an Australian farrier claims to have invented a horseshoe which will not slip on the worst of roads. The farrier cuts a section from a worn heavy-duty tire and thins down the ends so that the rubber can be fitted between the hoof and shoe from side to side. He uses a strip near the ends so that when the rubber is fitted into place, the surface is just slightly higher than the metal of the shoe.

Iowa Church Growth

From one miniature church built of logs in 1834 to more than 4,000 places of worship in 1947—small wonder that Iowa frequently is referred to as a "Bible Commonwealth." Dominating force behind the building of that first church was Barton Randle, the first circuit rider of the Dubuque region, who went from house to house for contributions ranging from 12½ cents to 25 dollars until he had $250. When completed, it was dedicated by a two-day meeting with a membership of 12 persons.

Bernice Palaske and Earl C. Pape Married Saturday

Miss Bernice Ann Palaske and Earl C. Pape were married at 2 p. m. Saturday in a service read by the Rev. George Kilbride at St. Peter's church in Antioch.

Miss Palaske, daughter of Mrs. Julia Palaske was exceptionally attractive in white slipper satin, fashioned with silk marquisette yoke joined by a satin berthia trimmed with rhinestones. The full skirt had a long train, and the long sleeves had rhinestones circling the cuff. Her fingertip veil was crowned by orange blossoms fashioned of mother of pearl.

The bride's flowers were a spray of white gladioli and orchids. Miss Dorothy King was maid of honor, and Mrs. Francis Koukol was matron of honor.

Mr. Pape, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pape had as his best man Frank Kennedy.

Darlene Bauer, Beatrice Ashe, Vicki King and Dorothy Morton were bridesmaids and James Walsh, Robert Ellis, Theodore King and Charles Jorgensen acted as ushers.

A family reception was held at Our Country club in the afternoon following the ceremony and a reception was also held in the evening at Koukol's Hall, Lake Marie. Two hundred and fifty guests were present.

We have made it as accurate and complete as we know how. It will serve you best if you follow these five suggestions:

1. Discard your old directory. Turn it in for waste paper if it hasn't already been collected.

2. Check your memo list of frequently called numbers against the new directory to be sure they're right.

3. Look in the new directory for any number you're not sure of. That way, you'll avoid mistakes and wrong numbers.

4. Save time by finding the number in the directory instead of calling information.

5. Use the "Classified" section (yellow pages in most directories) when you want professional help, products or services.
